Behavior Policy

At Camp Summit respect, kindness, and empathy are the foundation for how we treat each other. Camp Summit will be using Summit’s Character and Respect Education (CARE) program during our summer sessions.

The CARE system follows these steps in the case that a camper should have to be reminded of the rules:

1. Verbal reminder.
2. Written “friendly reminder”
3. Refocus form (parents may be called)
4. Call home to parents, parents must pick up from camp.

In the case that a camper receives chronic verbal or friendly reminders a refocus form may be issued without steps 1 or 2.

Three Strikes

- A “three strikes” policy will be in effect for all campers at Camp Summit. A camper who receives three refocus forms in one week may be suspended from camp for one day or more.
- A strike or immediate camp suspension may be issued to a camper for the following behaviors: fighting/physical aggression, abusive language, bullying, vandalism, or other behaviors that jeopardize the safety or positive camp experience of others.
- There are no refunds for days of camp missed due to a suspension.

I understand and agree to the Camp Summit behavior policy,
